

Skolkovo

A few years ago, Skolkovo was one of countless cities amid Russian landscape located South of Moscow. Nowadays it has become an ambitious endeavour that has started under the aegis of the former Russian president Dimitri Medvedev in 2010. The goal is to make of this part of land the new Silicon Valley.

Developed by Fishing Cactus for Iceberg, Skolkovo was introduced at the MIPIM in 2012. The game is available on both PC + Kinect and iPad. It consists of an interactive map of the future site. Full of useful information, it comes with a handy access map, architects interviews, etc. who are part of this gigantic complex. In this application, you will discover the project, the future buildings, the objectives and much more.

Objectives of the serious game :

- Interactive: Take a tour of all the 3D models
- Innovative design and ergonomoy
- Attractive visual renders
- Tons of information about the construction site
- Discover the project before its inauguration in 2014 during the G8
